Dear Marcia:

_____ informs me that through _____ he understands that you may be in Washington late this year for an extended period and might possibly be interested in reemployment with us. At the moment it appears that we certainly could use you in an assignment which might be mutually beneficial to us both.

You of course understand that employment commitments have not changed since your departure and that a final commitment in this connection would have to come from the Personnel Division. However if you are planning to be in Washington for an extended period and are interested in working with us again, for our part we should be extremely anxious to have you and I would greatly appreciate it if you could advise me of your plans at the earliest possible date so that I can be sure to have a position available for you.

Please give my kindest regards to your husband and I hope we shall have the pleasure of seeing you in Washington in the not too distant future.

Sincerely,
